JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. Jurisdiction. This Court has federal-question subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff's TCPA claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 because the TCPA is a federal statute. Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 565 U.S. 368, 372 (2012). This Court has supplemental subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff's claim arising under Texas Business and Commerce Code 305.053 because that claim: arises from the same nucleus of operative fact, i.e., Defendants' telemarketing robocalls to Plaintiff; adds little complexity to the case; and doesn't seek money damages, so it is unlikely to predominate over the TCPA claims.
11. Personal Jurisdiction. This Court has general personal jurisdiction over the defendant because they have repeatedly placed calls to Texas residents, and derive revenue from Texas residents, and the sell goods and services to Texas residents, including the Plaintiff.
12. This Court has specific personal jurisdiction over the defendants because the calls at issue were sent by or on behalf of the defendants.

13. Venue. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1)-(2) because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims—the calls and sale of goods and services directed at Texas residents, including the Plaintiff—occurred in this District and because the Plaintiff resides in this District. residing in the Eastern District of Texas when he recieved a substantial if not every single call from the Defendants that are the subject matter of this lawsuit.
14. This Court has venue over the defendants because the calls at issue were sent by or on behalf of the above named defendants to the Plaintiff a Texas resident.

THE TELEPHONE CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT OF 1991, 47 U.S.C. §

15. In 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA in response to a growing number of consumer complaints regarding telemarketing.
16. The TCPA makes it unlawful “to make any call (other than a call made for emergency purposes or made with the prior express consent of the called party) using an automatic telephone dialing system or an artificial or prerecorded voice ... to any telephone number assigned to a ... cellular telephone service.” 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A)(iii).
17. The TCPA makes it unlawful “to initiate any telephone call to any residential telephone line using an artificial or prerecorded voice to deliver a message without the prior express consent of the called party, unless the call is initiated for emergency purposes, is made solely pursuant to the collection of a debt owed to or guaranteed by the United States, or is exempted by rule or order” of the Federal Communication Commission (“FCC”). 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(B).

18. The TCPA provides a private cause of action to persons who receive calls in violation of § 227(b). 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3).
19. Separately, the TCPA bans making telemarketing calls without a do-not-call policy available upon demand. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(d)(1).¹
20. The TCPA provides a private cause of action to persons who receive calls in violation of § 227(c) or a regulation promulgated thereunder. 47 U.S.C. § 227(c)(5).
21. According to findings of the FCC, the agency vested by Congress with authority to issue regulations implementing the TCPA, automated or prerecorded telephone calls are a greater nuisance and invasion of privacy than live solicitation calls and can be costly and inconvenient.
22. The FCC also recognizes that “wireless customers are charged for incoming calls whether they pay in advance or after the minutes are used.” In re Rules and Regulations Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 18 FCC Rcd. 14014, 14115 ¶ 165 (2003).
23. The FCC requires “prior express written consent” for all autodialed or prerecorded telemarketing robocalls to wireless numbers and residential lines. In particular:[A] consumer’s written consent to receive telemarketing robocalls must be signed and be sufficient to show that the consumer: (1) received clear and conspicuous disclosure of the consequences of providing the requested consent, i.e., that the consumer will receive future calls that deliver prerecorded messages by or on behalf of a specific seller; and (2) having received this information, agrees unambiguously to receive such calls at a telephone number the consumer designates. In addition, the written agreement must be obtained without requiring, directly or indirectly, that the agreement be executed as a condition of purchasing any good or service.

24. In the Matter of Rules & Regulations Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 27 FCC Rcd. 1830, 1844 ¶ 33 (2012) (footnote and internal quotation marks omitted). FCC regulations “generally establish that the party on whose behalf a solicitation is made bears ultimate responsibility for any violations.” In the Matter of Rules and Regulations Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 10 FCC Rcd. 12391, 12397 ¶ 13 (1995).
25. The FCC confirmed this principle in 2013, when it explained that “a seller ... may be held vicariously liable under federal common law principles of agency for violations of either section 227(b) or section 227(c) that are committed by third-party telemarketers.” In the Matter of the Joint Petition Filed by Dish Network, LLC, 28 FCC Rcd. 6574, 6574 ¶ 1 (2013).
26. Under the TCPA, a text message is a call. Satterfield v. Simon & Schuster, Inc., 569 F.3d 946, 951 – 52 (9th Cir. 2009).
27. A corporate officer involved in the telemarketing at issue may be personally liable under the TCPA. E.g., Jackson Five Star Catering, Inc. v. Beason, Case No. 10-10010, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 159985, at *10 (E.D. Mich. Nov. 8, 2013) (“[M]any courts have held that corporate actors can be individually liable for violating the TCPA where they had direct, personal participation in or personally authorized the conduct found to have violated the statute.” (internal quotation marks omitted)); Maryland v. Universal Elections, 787 F. Supp. 2d 408, 415 – 16 (D. Md. 2011) (“If an individual acting on behalf of a corporation could avoid individual liability, the TCPA would lose much of its force.”).

The Texas Business and Commerce Code 305.053

28. The Texas Business and Commerce code has an analogous portion that is related to the TCPA and was violated in this case.

29. The Plaintiff may seek damages under this Texas law for violations of 47 USC 227 or subchapter A and seek $500 in statutory damages or $1500 for willful or knowing damages.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

30. Rachel with Card Services is the bane of the existence of many consumers. These are calls long since prosecuted by the FTC that make fraudulent, misleading, false promises and exaggerated claims to consumers. These scams have taken place for years and continue to this day.

Alleged calls to the Plaintiff and violations of 47 USC 227(b)

31. Mr. Cunningham received multiple calls from a variety of spoofed caller ID's that contained a pre-recorded message and were initiated using an automated telephone dialing system. The calls were on behalf of each of the defendants in this case offering their products/services as a result of the calls. The calls had a delay of 3-4 seconds of dead air before the pre-recorded message began indicating the calls were initiated using an ATDS. The Plaintiff recieved calls selling the services of Wilhelm Law Group, John Wilhelm, Secure Account Services, and Consumer Defense Group by United Financial Protection, LLC as directed by Thomas Sizemore and Levon Sizemore and there are elements of both direct and vicarious liability in this case.

32. The Plaintiff recieved multiple calls from multiple spoofed and non-working caller

ID's all designed to trick consumers into picking up the phone by using false, misleading, and fraudulent caller ID's that include the first 6 digits of the Plaintiff's phone number at issue also known as local area spoofing. These calls were not related to an emergency purpose and were placed without the Plaintiff's consent.

33. One call was from 615-550-8333 to 615-348-1977 on 11/12/2018 and contained a pre-recorded message and was initiated by an automated telephone dialing as indicated by a 3-4 second delay of dead air when the call first connected. The defendants called a total of 10 times on 11/12/2018, 3 times on 11/13/2018 and once on 11/15/201 from 866-576-9211.
34. The 8333 number is a non-working number and was picked specifically because it is very similar to the Plaintiff's actual phone number of 7262 and is called "Neighborhood spoofing" designed to trick consumers into picking up the call as it appears to be a local call. This call contained a pre-recorded message after a 3-4 second pause of dead air. Upon further conversation with the representative who had a thick foreign accent and sounded as if he was calling from overseas, the Plaintiff was transferred live to a "verification" rep and then finally to an agent who stated he was with Consumer Defense Group.
35. The Defendants knew full well that overseas telemarketers were placing calls on their behalf to consumers across the country pitching debt relief services by overseas telemarketers which was initiated using an automated telephone dialing system and contained a pre-recorded message.
36. Mr. Cunningham has a limited data plan. Incoming text messages chip away at his monthly allotment.

37. Mr. Cunningham has limited data storage capacity on his cellular telephone.

Incoming calls from the defendants consumed part of this capacity.

38. No emergency necessitated the calls

39. Each call was sent by an ATDS.

Knowing and Willful Violations of Telemarketing Regulations 47 USC 227(c)(5)

40. Mr. Cunningham asked for an internal do-not-call policy

41. The Defendants knowingly violated the TCPA by initiating automated calls with pre-recorded messages to the Plaintiff without maintaining an internal do not call policy in violation of 47 CFR 64.1200(d).

42. The Defendants never sent Mr. Cunningham any do-not-call policy in violation of 47 CFR 64.1200(d)(1)

43. The Defendants placed telemarketing calls without having a written do-not-call policy in place to Mr. Cunningham in violation of 47 CFR 64.1200(d)(1)

44. The Defendants placed telemarketing calls to the Plaintiff without training their agents engaged in telemarketing on the existence and use of any do-not-call list in violation of 47 CFR 64.1200(d)(2)

45. The defendants placed telemarketing calls without identifying themselves or the party they were calling on behalf of and falsely claimed they were with Visa or Mastercard in violation of 47 CFR 64.1200(d)(4)
